Citing a Diary Entry from a Database in NoodleTools

Diary of an Oregon Pioneer of 1853

Women in America, 1999

Commentary on Diary of an Oregon Pioneer of 1853

In 1853 Joel and Amelia Knight decided to emigrate from Iowa to Oregon. The mother of seven children, Amelia Knight was four months pregnant when they left on their trip. It took them five months to reach their destination, which forced her to give birth outside Troutdale, Oregon. Neither pregnancy, nor old age, nor illness was an obstruction to the overland journey. Unlike male diarists, women wrote, however briefly, about the births and deaths that occurred along the way. Describing the details of such personal matters was, perhaps, considered taboo.

Diary of an Oregon Pioneer of 1853, by Amelia Stewart Knight

[1853]

Tuesday, July 19th—Came 15 miles. Crossed Rock Creek about noon in the midst of all the dust; we had a nice little shower, which laid the dust and made the traveling much better. Camped about three o’clock close to a canyon on Rock Creek.

Wednesday, July 20th—Dry traveling today. No grass; water is very scarce. Stopped at noon to water at a very bad place on Snake River, one and a half miles or more down a steep bank or precipice. The cattle looked like little dogs down there, and after all the trouble of getting the poor things down there, they were so tired they could not drink, and were obliged to travel back and take the dusty road again. We are still traveling on in search of water. water.
Under Sources, Click + Create new citation
Select database.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Historical Work in an Archive</td>
<td>- The Acropolis in Athens, 20 June 1900, Brittanica ImageQuest, 1900,</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>www.ancient.eu/image/690/</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Select Manuscript

Primary source documents and other unpublished works are often housed in physical library archives or manuscript collections. Alternatively, they may be scanned and available through a site like American Memory. Choose the type of work you wish to cite below:

- Manuscript: Historical manuscript or paper
  - Correspondence: Unpublished letter, memo or other correspondence
  - Map or Chart: Print map, chart or similar work
  - Photo or Illustration: Print photograph or illustration
Citation has 2 Containers:

- Database
- Diary Entry
Name of the Database

Use the pull-down menu to select the database.
Copy/paste the full URL. Look for a permalink, if available.
Fill in the date you last accessed the diary entry online.
Complete using the source citation at end of article and the diary entry itself.
Who wrote the diary entry?
If no title is given, Check Untitled and provide a short description.

Title of Diary

Most recent date of access: [today?]
November 10 2017

Manuscript

Authors:
Rule First name Middle name Last name

Type of document:

Date authored:
month day YYYY

If no title is given, Check Untitled and provide a short description.

Source Citation
For a diary entry, leave blank.
Date Authored

Fill in when the diary entry was written.
If using more than one entry, fill in year ONLY.
Here is the completed citation. You may always go back and edit.
Under Options, Click Edit annotation to create the annotation for this source.
Under Options, Click In-text reference for help with Parenthetical Citations.